logstash

An ETL (extract, transform and load) tool.
Commonly used to load data from various sources, like databases and log files, into elasticsearch.

- Check validity of a logstash configuration:

```
logstash --configtest --config {{logstash_config.conf}}

- Run logstash using configuration:

sudo logstash --config {{logstash_config.conf}}

- Run logstash with the most basic inline configuration string:

sudo logstash -e 'input {} filter {} output {}'
